

Connect with the Secular Homeschool Community

Secular, Eclectic, Academic Homeschoolers is a community focused organization that in three years has grown to have over 30 thousand participants. This is no surprise as secular homeschooling is the fastest growing segment of the homeschool community. We believe that the more choices secular homeschoolers have, the more likely homeschooling families are to be successful at homeschooling. We want to use our organization to connect businesses, speakers, bloggers, and authors who are developing materials for our community with each other and with homeschoolers.

Join us today to help build a community for secular homeschool businesses where we all help each other grow our businesses together.
